Thank you for visiting www.noorjanan.blogspot.com where I share my homeschool experiences with others whom may want to know how our Muslim family does it. I love to create printables of all sorts and I love to see my children use the printables I made especially for them. This love has continued from my days as a Third Grade teacher. I also want others to be able to find the joy of learning with these printables.

TERMS OF USE: Please download these printables for free, all that I ask is that you do not reproduce, sale, host, or store them on any other website or storage retrieval system. If you like to share them please link back to www.noorjanan.blogspot.com . Never share the google document site. Reproduction and sale of these printables are prohibited. For individual and classroom use only. Attach this page to any printed book.
